

It may have been summer but your

Tax Dollars

have been hard at work designing a better Park Place

Join us to learn more from our Design Steering Committee members including community members, families, school staff and architects on:

- When: Thursday, October 15
- Where: Park Place Middle Library
- What time: 7 p.m.
- Why: Share your best advice about changes coming this spring to Park Place Middle School

In April 2015 local voters approved tax dollars to modernize Park Place Middle School. Originally built in the mid-1970s, the Park Place campus is in great need of work to meet the demands of today's middle schoolers. Construction is set for the spring of 2016 but first a plan is needed.

Starting with concepts from 2010, several community and staff members spent this summer working on the Design Steering Committee. They reviewed and challenged the ideas of the past and looked to the future of what is the best environment for high academic achievement for every student and helping 6th, 7th and 8th graders build skills necessary to be good citizens. The group held many, many hours of discussion and also visited staff in recently built or modernized middle schools in neighboring communities for their best advice.

On Tuesday evening we ask you to offer your best advice on our work so far.
